In this case study, a commodities trading company engaged CPL Business Consultants to provide insights into the market for sorbitol as part of its growth and diversification strategy.

The study was focussed on products used as food ingredients that can be derived from starch, for example polyols such as sorbitol. The objective was to provide information to a client about the market dynamics of sorbitol and also to assist the company in developing its strategy. CPL was able to provide the required insights and gave recommendations e.g. on risks and value of trading in sorbitol as a commodity.
